The Panel noted this would be fundamental to being able to undertake the scrutiny process within the constrained timeline and to inhibit any duplication and potential stakeholder confusion	MM

through the Government of Jersey and Scrutiny requesting submissions from stakeholders simultaneously. The Panel discussed the request by the SPPP department to receive its view on the proposal of a new Standing Scrutiny Review Panel on Energy and Climate Change to ensure the long-term commitment for the Carbon Neutral Roadmap. The Chair agreed to raise this at the upcoming SLC meeting that week. The Panel approved the draft Scoping Document for the review and agreed for it to be shared with the SLC for approval. The Panel noted that the Terms of Reference would be drafted and shared with the Panel for approval via email prior to being sent for SLC approval. The Panel agreed for the review to be launched once the approval process had been completed.	MJ MM MM

2. Public Quarterly Hearing – Minister for Housing and Communities – Draft Question Plan
The Panel noted the question plan for the upcoming hearing with the Minister for Housing and Communities scheduled for that morning. The Panel received Deputy Russell Labey, Minister for Housing and Communities, and Officers for a public quarterly hearing. The proceedings were streamed live to the public and a recording was taken so that a written transcript could be produced.

3. Affordable Housing: Supply and Delivery The Panel noted that the full Ministerial Response to the Panel's report had not yet been presented by the Minister for Housing and Communities.
4. Draft Official Controls (Jersey) Regulations 202- [P.114/2021] The Panel noted that a Comments paper had been drafted and was undergoing the internal quality assurance process. 5. 6. Fishing vessel licensing conditions The Panel debriefed following the briefing received the previous day from the Minister for the Environment, Minister for External Relations and Officers. The Panel recalled and discussed the meeting that was held the previous day between the Jersey and French governments on the technical aspects of the licensing regime. Recalling that the Minister for the Environment had chosen to not attend the meeting, although understanding of the Minister's rationale for not attending, it was the Panel's view that the Minister should have attended considering his Ministerial responsibility in this area. The Panel highlighted its frustration regarding how drawn out the process had been to date and the time it was taking to reach any resolution with the French Government on the licensing conditions. Also, how the delays would potentially impact the commencement of the workstream in relation to nature and extent of licensing conditions. The Panel raised concern regarding the language and communication barriers, considering that it had been made aware that suitable translation facilities were not accessible during the meeting that was undertaken on the technicalities of the licencing process the previous day between the Jersey and French governments. The Panel discussed the ports where Jersey's fisheries could land their catches. However, noted that work to progress further opportunities and markets, although discussed in length by the Government of Jersey and Jersey's fishing community, had not been progressed to date. Noting that Guernsey would land its catch in varied ports,

the Panel discussed whether consideration for alternative merchanting arrangements for Jersey should be undertaken. The Panel recalled that it had written to the Minister for the Environment in December 2021 regarding the licensing regime and agreed it would consider whether the Minister's response necessitated any further detail to be sought. The Panel agreed it would continue to monitor the developing circumstances on the licensing matter and in order to gain a further understanding of the arbitration process, agreed to request a meeting with Officers from the Law Officers' Department, the Minister for the Environment and the Minister for External Relations.	NH

Agenda Matter	Action
1. Draft Official Controls (Jersey) Regulations 202- [P.114/2021]
The Panel discussed and approved Comments in respect of the draft Law and agreed for it to be presented on Thursday that week ahead of the States' debate scheduled for 8 th February 2022.	NH
2. Bridging Island Plan
The Panel noted that the Inspectors' Report and the Minister for the Environment's response to it was published on Thursday 27 th January 2022.
The Panel noted that the Minister had rejected some of the recommendations made within the Inspectors' Report. The Panel discussed areas of potential concern including the prevailing position of the La Gigoulande Quarry and the future supply of Jersey's water. The Panel agreed to write to Jersey Water Works to gain a better understanding of its position regarding the requirement for the La Gigoulande Quarry and its intentions in relation to Jersey's future water supply.	NH
The Panel discussed policy ME2 (Passivhaus Standards) in the proposed Plan and the Minister's response to the recommendation made within the Inspectors' Report. The Panel recalled the evidence it had gathered regarding Passivhaus during its review of affordable housing. The Panel recalled that the evidence it had received from Andium Homes and the Jersey Construction Council had indicated that the introduction of Passivhaus standards may affect scheme viability and deliverability in certain cases. However, the Panel noted that the Minister's response seemed to address this concern by ensuring a sufficient level of flexibility within the policy wording so that where Passivhaus standards would not be considered viable and evidenced as such, it would not need to be applied under those circumstances. It was noted that the Inspectors' recommendation to apply the policy to all new developments at this stage was rejected by the Minister on the grounds of ensuring a 'just transition' to carbon neutrality and thereby enabling the construction industry to develop sufficient capacity to meet the standards over time.

01.02.2022

The Panel recalled that it was awaiting correspondence from the Jersey Construction Council on any areas of concern within the draft Bridging Island Plan and where potential amendments may be beneficial. The Panel agreed to follow up with the Jersey Construction Council regarding the timescales for presenting any potential amendments to the Bridging Island Plan and to highlight policy ME2 and whether the policy wording may benefit from amending to provide any further assurances regarding flexibility in that regard. The Panel discussed the importance of enabling new green, modern technologies within the industry, however, not at the detriment of the industry's smaller traders.	NH
3. Government Plan 2022 [S.R.18/2021] – Ministerial Response The Panel noted and discussed the Ministerial Response to the Panel's report on the Government Plan 2022. The Panel noted that the majority of its recommendations had been accepted, one had been partially accepted, as it would be partially addressed by the Carbon Neutral Roadmap workstream, and that none had been rejected. The Panel agreed to follow up with questions regarding the Ministerial Response during its upcoming hearings with the Minister for Infrastructure on 15th February 2022 and the Minister for the Environment on 8th March 2022, where necessary. The Panel noted that the Minister for Housing and Communities' response to Finding 4 of its report had commented that the cap on social rents would be reduced to 80% market value as of 1st January 2022. The Panel requested that further clarity be sought regarding the status of this policy. The Panel recalled that the policy position was resultant of an amendment to the Government Plan 2022-25.	NH NH
4. Areas of other business The Panel recalled that work was being undertaken by the Minister for Housing and Communities in relation to proposed amendments to the Residential Tenancy Law and noted that a timeline for that work was not yet known. It was noted that the legislative programme agreed by the Council of Ministers had provided the intention for the legislation to be debated during this government term, however, that no further indication of the timescales had been received. The Panel agreed for a briefing to be arranged for an update on the ongoing work programme in relation to the remit of the Minister for Housing and Communities. The Chair informed the Panel that he intended to present an amendment to P.118/2021 - Draft Commercial Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) (Jersey) Law 202-. The Panel recalled the Members' briefing that was held the previous day and the concern raised regarding the fee structure in respect of the annual vehicle service fee which appeared to represent a duplication of fees for the annual servicing of the vehicles. The Chair explained that his intention was to simplify the process for the operator as the proposed fee structure and process was not considered user friendly. The Panel requested to include for its upcoming public hearing with the Minister for Infrastructure questioning in relation to where recommendations had been made by the Panel and accepted by the Minister. The Panel sought to understand the actions that had been fulfilled to date and those that remained outstanding. The Panel recalled its previous correspondence with Simon Sand and the Minister for the Environment regarding the restoration strategy for Simon Sand and noted that it seemed as though an agreement had been reached regarding further excavation of the site as a result of the Inspectors' Report on the Bridging Island Plan. Noting that	NH NH

the sand extraction process would be required to end at some point in the near future, the Panel agreed it should include the monitoring of sand extraction and the plans for further future sand provisions within its legacy report for the successive Panel to consider as part of its work programme.	NH
5. Future meeting The Panel noted that its next meeting was due to take place at 9:30am on 15th February 2022. Constable Le Maistre noted his apologies for the meetings on that day. Due to the de-escalation of the Covid-19 measures and considering that the work from home guidance had been removed, the Panel agreed it would be flexible in relation to whether it would hold its future meetings in person or virtually via Microsoft Teams. The Panel agreed that, where possible, it intended to hold all public hearings in person.

In attendance	Deputy John Young, Minister for the Environment Deputy Gregory Guida, Assistant Minister for the Environment Greg Morel, Head of Marine Resources and Management, Infrastructure, Housing and Environment Department Paul Chambers, Marine and Coastal Manager, Infrastructure, Housing and Environment Department Francis Binney, Marine Scientist, Infrastructure, Housing and Environment Department Jackie Harris, Legislative Drafter, Legislative Drafting Office Ben Markwell-Sales, Private Secretary to the Minister for the Environment Nikita Hall, Committee and Panel Officer
1. Draft Sea Fisheries and Aquatic Resources (Portelet Bay) (Jersey) Regulations 202- [P.29/2022] The Panel met with the Minister for the Environment, Assistant Minister for the Environment and Officers to discuss how a suitable amendment could be drafted to address concerns with the Draft Sea Fisheries and Aquatic Resources (Portelet Bay) (Jersey) Regulations 202- [P.29/2022] (hereafter referred to as the 'draft Regulations'). The Chair explained that his concerns related to the ability to police the proposed 'No Take Zone' (NTZ) and how to avoid any child being criminalised for fishing off the beach at Portelet Bay with a shrimping net. It was also raised that there appeared to have been no consultation on the draft Regulations with Ouaisne or St. Brelades Bay fishermen. The Head of Marine Resources and Management confirmed that the Jersey Fishermen's Association had been consulted, as well as the Jersey Inshore Fishing Association, some of whom were Ouaisne fishermen. It was accepted that gathering opinion from a broader representation of fishermen was desirable, although, often difficult to achieve.

The Panel was also advised that the general policing of this type of regulation was something that the Department for Infrastructure, Housing and Environment's Marine Resources Team was familiar with through other pieces of legislation; and which was carried out frequently through a mixture of approaches, including intelligence-led policing and ad-hoc patrols. It was emphasised that Portelet Bay was a place that was passed often by the Department's patrols.

It was also stressed that the issues raised relating to children potentially being criminalised could be applied to many other types of legislation. However, in these circumstances a formal prosecution would not be pursued as the Attorney General's public interest test existed to determine appropriate grounds on whether to pursue a prosecution, and that there was no historical precedent of this happening under similar legislation.

A discussion took place regarding the possibility of whether a suitable amendment could be proposed to exempt beach-goers. The Legislative Drafter advised that there was difficulty in doing so as the more prescriptive the law was in defining an offence could, in fact, make it more difficult to police. There would be difficulty in defining 'beach-goer', 'child' and 'fishing' and that the better approach was to draft the law widely and for those enforcing the law to use their discretion based on common sense and utilisation of the public interest test.

The Legislative Drafter further advised that children under the age of 10 cannot commit an offence and so would not be criminalised. The approach taken to police the draft Regulations would be best achieved through community engagement where officers on patrol would speak to parents to inform them of the law. The Chair raised whether guidelines should be formed to prevent the possibility of overzealous policing. The Minister for the Environment questioned the necessity for this but advised that he would seek advice from his Officers.

It was noted that, depending on the scale of the offence it would be intended for the offence to be dealt with at a Parish Hall Inquiry but that the law could then escalate it to a Court, where appropriate to do so. Furthermore, there would have to be very clear, demonstrable evidence before the offence could be elevated to Magistrates' Court level. It was further noted that where an offence occurs at sea, the offence is dealt with at St. Helier Parish Hall. Where an offence occurs on land / onshore it would be dealt with at the Parish Hall of the respective Parish where the offence took place.

The Chair stated that given that Centeniers would have to deal with processing these types of offences, there should have been consultation with the Comité des Chefs de Police on the draft Regulations and that there should be detailed guidelines for how to deal with such offences that may occur.

The Assistant Minister for the Environment raised whether a personal interest should be declared by the Chair who owned a shop selling fishing gear. The Chair emphasised that his concerns were in relation to the perception of passing a law without the ability to adequately police it and that it was important that children would not be criminalised but that, generally, he was in support of the draft Regulations.

The Chair queried what department resource existed to police the draft Regulations. The Minister for the Environment advised that he was not aware of the detail regarding funding and resources that would be available to police the law.

The Chair queried how moorings in the Bay would be financed and was advised that was unknown at the present time. It was queried whether there were NTZs across the UK which also included beaches as popular tourism hotspots. It was explained that generally restrictions around NTZs were tailored to their location and specific environmental features and so it would be expected that each NTZ would be different.

The Panel was informed that the proposition for a NTZ at Portelet Bay was something that had developed from the community, particularly the Société Jersiaise and had started in 1970s with the intention for the Bay to be intensely studied for scientific purposes. It was noted that the proposed NTZ had been carefully designed to exclude headlands where anglers would cast rods from. The Marine and Coastal Manager expressed that there was strong public support for a NTZ, particularly young people who wished to see the right things done from an environmental perspective.

The Panel was informed that signage would be displayed to raise public awareness of the NTZ and that local businesses were in support of this. The importance of communication and suitable messaging, including the use of interpretation boards was stressed by the Chair as crucial.

After discussion, the general Panel consensus was that it supported the draft Regulations and that a Comments paper noting the concerns discussed and stressing the importance of educational and informative signage, would be presented to States prior to the debate on the draft Regulations in second reading. The Officer was requested to draft a Comments paper accordingly for the Panel's consideration and approval at a future meeting.

The Panel thanked those in attendance and the meeting ended.
