Explanatory Note regarding subordinate legislation tabled at this meeting.

R&O – 108/2004

This Order sets the following minimum wage for employees who have ceased to be of compulsory school age –

- (a) £5.08 per hour for an employee who is not a trainee;
- (b) £3.82 per hour for an employee who is a trainee.

It also prescribes pay reference periods for the purposes of the minimum wage; and requires employers to keep sufficient records, for at least 10 years, to show that their employees are being paid at least the minimum wages to which they are entitled.

It also prescribes the maximum compensation that an employee may receive if he or she is detrimentally treated by an employer because the employee has acted to protect his or her rights in respect of the minimum wage. The amount of compensation may not exceed the amount the Jersey Employment Tribunal may order to be paid to an individual in proceedings before the Tribunal.

The Order was made by the Employment and Social Security Committee on 23rd September 2004, and will come into force on the same day as Article 16 of the Employment (Jersey) Law 2003.

This Order amends the Social Security (Medical Certification) (Jersey) Order 1974.

The effect of the amendments (other than the change made by Article 4(1) of the amending Order) is to provide for evidence relating to short term incapacity allowance or maternity benefit to be provided on a form that is compatible with the computer records for the time being maintained by the Employment and Social Security Committee. This will enable the evidence to be accommodated in the Department's new computer system with effect from 1st October 2004, and those amendments will accordingly come into effect on that day.

The effect of the amendment made by Article 4(1) is to revise the definition "midwife" in the principal Order in consequence of the provisions in the Health Care (Registration) (Amendment) (Jersey) Law 2002 relating to the registration of midwives under that Law. This amendment will come into force on the same day as those provisions of that Law.

The amending Order was made by the Employment and Social Security Committee on 23rd September 2004, and comes into force in accordance with Article 6.

The purpose of this Order is to increase from £2,884 a month to £2,980 a month the earnings limit above which a Class 1 insured person's earnings shall be disregarded in calculating his or her Class 1 Contributions.

This Order was made on 23rd September 2004, and comes into force on 1st January 2005.
