

Dear Sir or Madam,

There is no point to put the speed limit up on the Green Lanes to 20mph, as most motorist already driving more than 20! I walk a lot in the Valley des Vaux and there is a Speedometer (smiley) but he shows a sad face everytime a car passes, so if you put it up there will be another 10mph added to their speed then your Green Lane scheme is useless, and the Eco Tourist will stay away. Its impossible to police it so why change?

If you driving on National Roads in France and entering Villages they have reduced their Speed limit down to 15kmh! And there Speed cameras in place!

End result DON'T CHANGE 20mph motorists already driving more than 20!
